

Position Available

Metson@Home is looking to recruit a professional, entrepreneurial, energetic, garden enthusiast who is sales driven with strong horticultural knowledge to join Metson World's dynamic division; Metson@Home.

The candidate needs to be prepared to travel, work well in a team, have strong administration and retail sales skills, as well as have sound knowledge and training in horticulture, plant nutrition and basic plant biology / basic botany. The candidate needs to be fluent in Afrikaans and English. September to March is the peak gardening industry season, hence the candidate must be prepared to work through this period without taking leave.

If this sounds like the position for you, please send your CV, three (3) references and copy of your ID to HR@metson.co.za.